

not4profit.com

not4profit is a search engine for nonprofit and charitable organizations filtering the type of mission or work that is done by said organization.

not4profit has a goal of giving users all they need to dive into volunteer work they would find fulfilling. There are so many nonprofits available to choose from, and that can be overwhelming to anyone who wants to become involved. With a search engine like not4profit, users can specify what kind of volunteer work they are interested in, as well as size of organization and location of volunteering available to narrow down what would be the best fit for said user. We aim to personalize the search for volunteer work and place volunteers in places best 4 them.
